The Yearbook of East Windsor High School

Senior Editor : Jennifer L. Haines
Junior Editor : David Joseph

In Loving Memory . . .

We would like to dedicate this yearbook to someone very special that was taken from us on May 11, 1991. This cute and fun loving person always had something to say to make us laugh in times when we needed him. Mark was a very talented athlete with high aspirations, and if he were here today, his biggest goal would be to play with the Washington Redskins. We all know that Mark is in a special place, and even though we would rather have him with us, we know that he is in good hands. Mark holds a place in every heart that he touched, and will never be forgotten. We love you and miss you, the class of '94.

To Our Advisors

MR. CROFT AND MS. DRAKE:

These past four years have been filled with excitement as well as disappointment for many of us, but through it all, you lent a helping hand to anyone of us who needed it. Our meetings may not have always run smoothly, but they were always fun, and we may not have always gotten everything done on time, but it did get done (usually because you wouldn't leave us alone until it did). After our freshman year, with such a pitiful pep rally, followed in the spring by just as good of a sports day, we're surprised that you didn't give up. To Mr. Croft, someday we will have a "SUNDAE FUNDAY," and to Ms. Drake, we'll finally stop giving you gray hair. You've both stayed with us and through the years we have proven to be somewhat dependable, but always able to laugh, and we hope that we have also made you proud of what we have accomplished and that you will never forget us. We both got lucky on this deal, we got the best advisors in the school, and you got the best class in the school.

THE CLASS OF 1994

Class History

The class of 1994 began freshman year feeling a little clueless. Our class was led by President James Barton; Vice President Claudia Rasmussen; Secretary Jennifer Myers; and Treasurer Amy Slate. Our pep rally theme was "U Can't Touch Us" and, despite great dancing from Khamp, we finished last. Our freshman year was an interesting one, with the induction of Channel 1 to East Windsor and with the breakout of the Persian Gulf War. This was also a sad year as we mourned the loss of our friend and junior high classmate, Mark McKeever.

Our sophomore year class officers were President Claudia Rasmussen; Vice President Jennifer Myers; Secretary Jessica Pillion; Treasurer Amy Slate; and Historian Jennifer Callahan. Our luck from the previous pep rally carried through to this year as we placed last with our "Teenage Mutant Ninja Panthers" theme. If you don't remember this skit, it's probably because hardly anyone from our class was there to see it, which really wasn't a bad thing. This year we received our class rings from Balfour. In the news, sophomore year was an Olympic year, remember Kristi Yamaguchi and the Dream Team? This year also saw the end of communism in the Soviet Union.

Things really began to look up for our class during our junior year. The pep rally was abolished, so we couldn't lose another one. Our class officers were President Amy Slate; Vice President Victoria Peck; Secretary Jennifer Myers; Treasurer Katie Clark; and Historian Jennifer Callahan. The Junior Prom was held on June 4, 1993 at Mill on the river in South Windsor. The end of our junior year saw the end of the girls' field hockey team and the beginning of the girls' soccer team, and the introduction of other co-op sports. Important events in the news included the election of President Bill Clinton and the Chicago Bull "three-peat."

The class of 1994 began our senior year (finally!) led by President Amy Slate; Vice President Victoria Peck; Secretary Jennifer Myers; Treasurer Katie Clark; and Historian Jennifer Callahan. Our first activity was our semi-successful magazine drive. Our Senior Banquet was held on June 3, 1994 at the Sheraton Hotel at Bradley International Airport in Windsor Locks. The senior class outing was held at the traditional High Meadows in Granby. After graduation in LATE June, the members of the class of 1994 went their own separate ways, with their own separate dreams, all looking forward to that first class reunion.

Class Motto

Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations, I may not be able to reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, and try to follow where they lead.

— Jen Callahan

Junior Prom June 4, 1994 Mill on the River

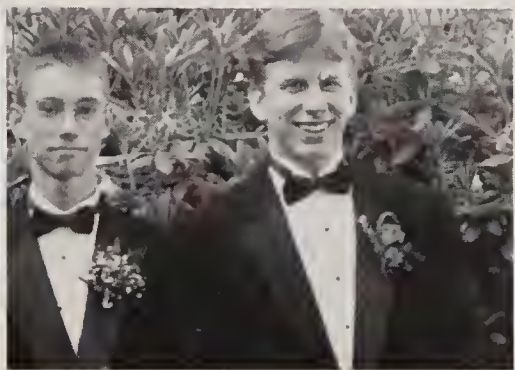

The class of 1994 decided that it would rather have a full prom court instead of a King and Queen, to everyone's amazement this transition went rather smoothly. Our judges decided that these were the people that best represented the class at our Prom:

standing: Jennifer Myers, Victoria Peck, Jessica Pillion, Patricia Cloutier, Sandra Rauschenbach, and Kaheta Garvey.

kneeling: James Barton, Jacob Kalnenieks, James Martino, Brian Harrington, Rodney Coffin, and Khamphiou Phimvongsa.

Here are some memories . . .

Class Prophecy

The class of 1994 had already established its own unique history. After the widely celebrated graduation, they went their own separate ways determined to achieve their goals. If these goals are ever attained, we'll find out at our 20 year reunion, but for now it's nice to dream —

Gregory Anderson will be working for or owning his own highly recommended service station.

Loren Andreotta will be living and working at an American Embassy in Northern Africa or the Mediterranean, traveling the world in her spare time, and married without children.

Gerald Bancroft will be happily married with two children. He will be a paid firefighter at Bradley Airport. He will own his own house somewhere in the town of Broad Brook, with a new Ford pick-up.

James Barton will have a F-350 pick-up with a 9 ft. snowplow. He will also be a professional (paid) firefighter at Bradley Airport.

Christopher Berardi will be living in Florida owning his own speed and custom shop and still finding a transmission for his 1978 Malibu. He will also be racing Dale Earnhart's #3 Lumina at Daytona after he dies in a crash at Poconos.

Cindy Berozsky will be editor in chief of the Washington Post.

Alejandra Calderon will be an advertiser or a graphic designer. She will probably be living in her country (Columbia).

Jennifer M. Callahan will have a successful career at a publishing firm in Boston, living in Concord, skating on Walden Pond with Brian Boitano, and traveling the world still trying to meet Jon Bon Jovi.

Kathryn Clark will live in Queensland, Australia, teaching algebra to high school students, and will be running a hair salon as a side job.

Patricia Cloutier will be a Drug and Alcohol counselor for children. She will be married with a couple of children and hopefully living in Arizona or some nice warm place.

Rodney Coffin will be married to some rich chick, living the lazy life.

Keith Coons will be at TCI now run by Baran Institute working on Chris' transmission.

Tracie M. Cote will be a successful Respiratory therapist saving other people's lungs while still killing her own.

David Crawford will be living in the south somewhere, living with Angela B. and we will have four kids with another one on the way. He'll live in a big house, have a nice car and will be a very rich man.

Ascher'D Davis will be twice as evil with a husband, two beautiful children, and a successful career.

Angelina Deleon will be living in Australia with Sean with two kids named Nadine and Vinnie.

Colleen Demirgian will still be getting phone numbers at the Buckland Mall with Jen.

Christine Domina will be married with one child and actively working in a law firm.

Derrick Donahue will be on his way to work in the big city as a firefighter in his 8 second Mustang which will be for sale so he can pay his insurance and buy a family car for the wife and kid.

Christina Durdek will be making jewelry and selling it for lots of $$$money so that she'll never have to get a real job. She'll also still be wondering what to do with her hair.

Erik Fernandez will be the first major league manager to have a team full of sons, all nine of them will be on the field.

Russel Frey will be working a nine hour job to pay off the mortgage. He will be the father of one boy, and will be married to a beautiful woman.

Jeremy Fusco will be sitting in his recliner in front of his 100 inch T.V. screen watching football with a remote in one hand and a beverage in the other getting fat.

Kaheta Garvey will be happily married with five kids pursuing an acting career while still trying to save up money for a new car.

Tara Griffin will be a flight attendant, seeing the world. She'll be married and living in a nice house with her husband on an island or in Hawaii.

Jennifer Haines will still be recovering from the stress of this yearbook. Fortunately, the beautiful landscapes of Sweden, her wonderful husband, and her animals will completely heal her.

Brian Harrington will be still working for himself making a million dollars.

Wayne Hayes will be on a beach in the tropics doing nothing.

Delina Hesse will be a full-time probation officer, married with a few kids, and still trying to find a new car.

Leslie Hickie will have finally met and befriended Oprah Winfrey.

Jason Hopp will be still deciding what to write for his prophecy.

April Jones will be an art therapist in California with stock in Nice-n-Easy.

Kenneth Jones will be still sitting on the couch drinking beverages with the guys, watching the Dolphins take the Super Bowl.

Jacob Kalnenieks will be drawing unknown comic books to pay the bills in between eating, sleeping, and being a large mammal.

Tracey Letellier will still be asking Mr. Gowdy geometry questions and will still be getting crank calls.

Christopher Martin will be working somewhere.

James Martino will be playing hoops with Toker and the other inmates.

Jennifer Myers will still be trying to figure out how to keep from blushing.

Dana M. McCutcheon will be a successful nurse, trying to find that last frog that jumped out and a man that is NOT going into the military.

Heather McGarr will be teaching kids, earning their respect, and helping them with their problems.

Melissa Olivas will be happily travelling around, she will be 37 and will be back to see E.W.H.S.

Alex Pawlowski will be sitting on a beach in the Caribbean, rich and retired after becoming famous in chemical engineering.

Victoria Peck will be still ringing groceries at Chester's.

Khamphiou Phimvongsa will be: still finishing his Bronco, graduating from college, sitting on his first million, able to tie his own shoes, potty trained, riding his bike without training wheels, driving over the speed limit, still looking for a clue, and still wondering if his prophecy will come true.

Jessica Pillion will still be walking around on crutches with her big black brace.

Adam Pratt will be sleeping or successful, either one.

Claudia Rassmussen will be performing on Broadway as her second personality Lola.

Sandra Rauschenbach will own her own hair salon and will be driving her Mustang 5.0 with the rag top down.

Jennifer Robinson will still be trying to figure out what to put down for her prophecy or a sleazy politician, whichever comes first.

Jason Sabotka will be either a successful trauma nurse or surgeon, living in a 75 ft. sailboat off the coast of California.

Kelly Salmon will still be spilling coffee on people at Francesco's.

Marc Salmon will be helping Khamp with his Bronco . . . still.

Amy Slate will be cutting people open by day and planning out reunions by night, along with marrying a rich guy and having lots of stuff.

Robert Sweeney will still be going over to get his free coffee from Tracie at D+D.

Matthew Teixeira will still be living at home driving his parents crazy and will still have no clue, but will have just won the lotto.

Tanya Tracy will be married with two kids, living in Texas. Successful in the career of her choice and still trying to sell her car.

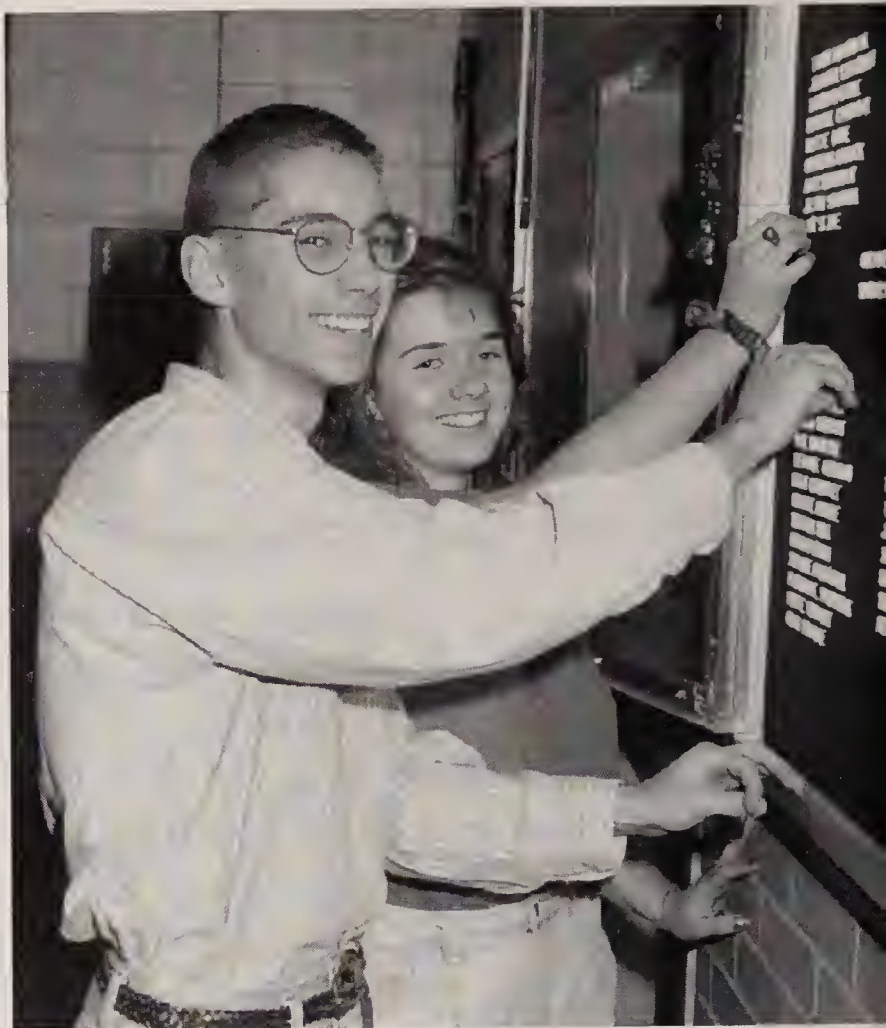

Nicole R. Traks will be living in Hawaii. She'll be with her Hawaiin family and learning their culture. She hopes that she will be married with one child. She will be working with computers as a secretary or teacher.

Du Vong will be somewhere just "chillin." He will be home taking care of the kids while his beautiful wife is at work making money to support him. Or he will be in jail with Jim for doing "the bad deed."

Moath Zaben will be running the biggest law firm in the U.S.

Name Chris Martin Nickname Iven, Sarge, Redneck Ever since I came to this school nothing but good things usually happen to me. It's been about a month since David's recent crash. I thought the crash was very exciting but Dave was kind of histiaural and Adam almost went to the bathroom in his pants. I didn't care if we even got to school after he rolled his car. For some reason Adam thought he was going to blow up into a flame. Finally we all got out of the car and really were surprised it had no big dents. Dave and I started to laugh at his car. This school has been very different from the other schools I have gone to. But I still like this school better than the others.

It's been a ball. Rod: My sober amigo, it's been a great ride. I hope you've had as much fun as I have in the years we've been friends. You have always been there for me, even after that night I got sick in your house. Ha! I know we'll probably go our separate ways in June, but stay in touch. Good Luck Du: The supreme master of, and my mentor at, SFII. Oh Yah, you're pretty good at Mortal Kombat, too. We've been in the same classes for the past few years and it's been great getting to know you. Thanks for the introduction to Pho! I hope your motivation increases in college. Stay in touch. Katie: The brains behind our little wild kitten controversy. You're one of the hardest working people that I have ever known. Don't worry about people laughing at your questions, just keep asking them. Good luck in college and keep in touch! Jeremy: The least motivated person that I have ever known. I know I might have made you mad this year, but it was all for your own good. I hope you wake up in time, because you could be very successful. Good luck at whatever you decide to do. Keep in touch. Mom and Dad: Last, but certainly not least, the two most influential people in my life. I have the utmost respect for the both of you. I hope I have made you very proud of me. Thank you for everything. I love you.

Tracey — You have given us a life of sunshine which glows with pride, joy, and love. Let your riches be compared to the gift God gave us at your birth. Let your heart be the purest form of love to guide you through your journey of life. Love always, Mom, Dad, and Danny

Loren — Yesterday you were a baby, today you're nearly grown. Where did the time go? Love, Mom

Jen — Congratulations!! May all your hopes and dreams for the future come true. Remember, what you believe you can achieve. We're proud of you! Love, Mom, Amy, Doug, Grandma, and Grandpa

Colleen — Cowker, we always knew that you would love swimming! We're so proud of your academic and athletic accomplishments. We know that you will continue to be successful throughout life! Love, Mom, Dad, Carrie, and Daisy

Kate — How the years have flown by! We love you, Mom and Dad

Jason — On your road through life, may your adventures be many, your disappointments few. Always remember, win or lose, we'll be here for you. You are a shining star. We're so proud of you. Love, Mom and Dad

Jake — Congratulations! We are proud of you. You give me happiness every day. Good luck in college. We'll miss you a lot. Love, Mom, Pete, and Andrew.

Jen — Best wishes and much luck in the future. Love Dad, Mom, and Chris

Mel — Your smile has brightened many lives including ours. Best wishes for a lifetime of happiness and success. Love, Mom and Dad Olivas and Mom and Dad Green

Wayne — You are a special generation. Live life victoriously! Love, Mom

Alex — It's been a fascinating, fun, and very fast 17½ years!! Hope your years in college are just as much fun!! Love, Mom and Dad

Kelly — Wishing all the best to our sunshine, rainbow, and butterfly girl! We love you, Mom and Dad.

Leslie — For the delight that you were, for all that you are, and for all that you will become — I love you and am proud of you. With love and admiration, Mom

Sandra, We love you very much and we are very proud of you. We hope that all of your dreams come true. Love, Mom, Dad, and Ace

Jessica — We hope all your dreams come true in whatever you choose to do. We love you Dit! Love Mom, Dad, and Alyssa

Amy — I am so proud of you, my daughter and friend. As you work towards your goals, know that I am always there for you. Love, Mom

Kaheta — To my dearest daughter, you are our first born and one of the greatest, greatest gifts of all. Remember your future lies before you like newly fallen snow, be careful how you tread it because every step will show, Good luck in whatever path you take, and please don't ever stop dreaming. Love, Mom, Dad, and Mama

Jeremy — Good luck in the future, and especially at UCONN, but we know you'd really rather be fishing!! Love, Tom, Mom, and Jess

Christine — May all that comes your way be filled with the magic of love and happiness. We love you very much, Mom and Jay

James — Jim, you will always be our "Mr. Fix It." We know you will be a success at whatever you do. We are so very proud of you. Love, Mom, Dad, Jen, and Michelle

Rodney — Wishing you much success and all the happiness in the world, you deserve it! Love, Dad, Mom, and Erin

April — Keep following your dreams and may you find happiness and love in all your future days. Love Always, Mom, Dad, Rob, and Chris

Jennifer — We're proud of who you are and all you've done. But most of all — we love you! Love, Mom and Dad

Kenneth — 3-Pointers: Shoot for the stars, Pass your luck, and Dunk trouble. Love, Mom

Ascher'D — God knew from the beginning just how special you would be and just how much your thoughtful ways would one day mean to me. He must have loved us very much to guide our steps, each day and cared enough to see to it our paths would cross this way. Love, Nana and Grandpa

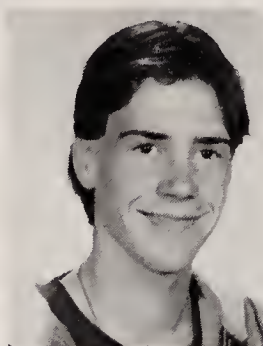

Tracie — Banana, we're very proud of you! We love you! Love, Mom and Dad
